History, Expansion, and Growth of Flamingo Holding

Flamingo International Holding began as a small trading company in Oman and, in a short period, became a leading player in the regional industrial development sector by leveraging a focused approach, innovative services, and a deep understanding of investor needs.

Flamingo's transformation from a trading company into a multi-division holding is the result of combining experience, market analysis, and long-term planning. Initially, the company focused on providing company registration and investment licensing services. Over time, as the demand for industrial infrastructure, specialized logistics, & export development solutions grew, Flamingo expanded into a complete ecosystem of specialized companies.

Today, the holding manages the entire “end-to-end” process through active departments in business acceleration, investment, trading, construction, business coaching, migration, marketing, tourism, and education. This step-by-step development has transformed Flamingo from a local player into a regional brand with a presence in Oman, Iran, East Africa, and GCC markets.

Flamingo’s expansion is meaningful not only in organizational terms but also in strategic thinking: shifting from short-term transactions to building sustainable investment models, from project execution to project ownership, and from mere trade to creating industrial infrastructure. Flamingo is now on the path to becoming a “reference for industrial development,” simultaneously acting as an investor, facilitator, and operator within Oman’s economy.

Projects

of Flamingo Holding

Oman's industrial landscape is undergoing a strategic transformation guided by the government's Vision 2040. This program aims to diversify the national economy and reduce dependence on oil & gas revenues. Key non-oil sectors, including manufacturing, logistics, mining, fisheries, and tourism, have experienced significant growth supported by targeted investments, regulatory reforms, and infrastructure development. Oman's geographic location along major international shipping routes, combined with high-standard ports and free zones such as Duqm, Sohar, and Salalah, strengthens the country's position as a regional logistics and industrial hub.

The government continues to implement business-friendly policies to attract foreign direct investment, including the introduction of a modern foreign investment law, tax incentives, & streamlined licensing procedures. These reforms have improved the business environment, encouraged private sector participation, and fostered international collaborations.

With economic sustainability and innovation prioritized, industries such as renewable energy, advanced manufacturing, information and communication technology, and the healthcare sector are expected to play an increasingly prominent role in Oman's long-term development strategy.

K-SPAN STRUCTURE

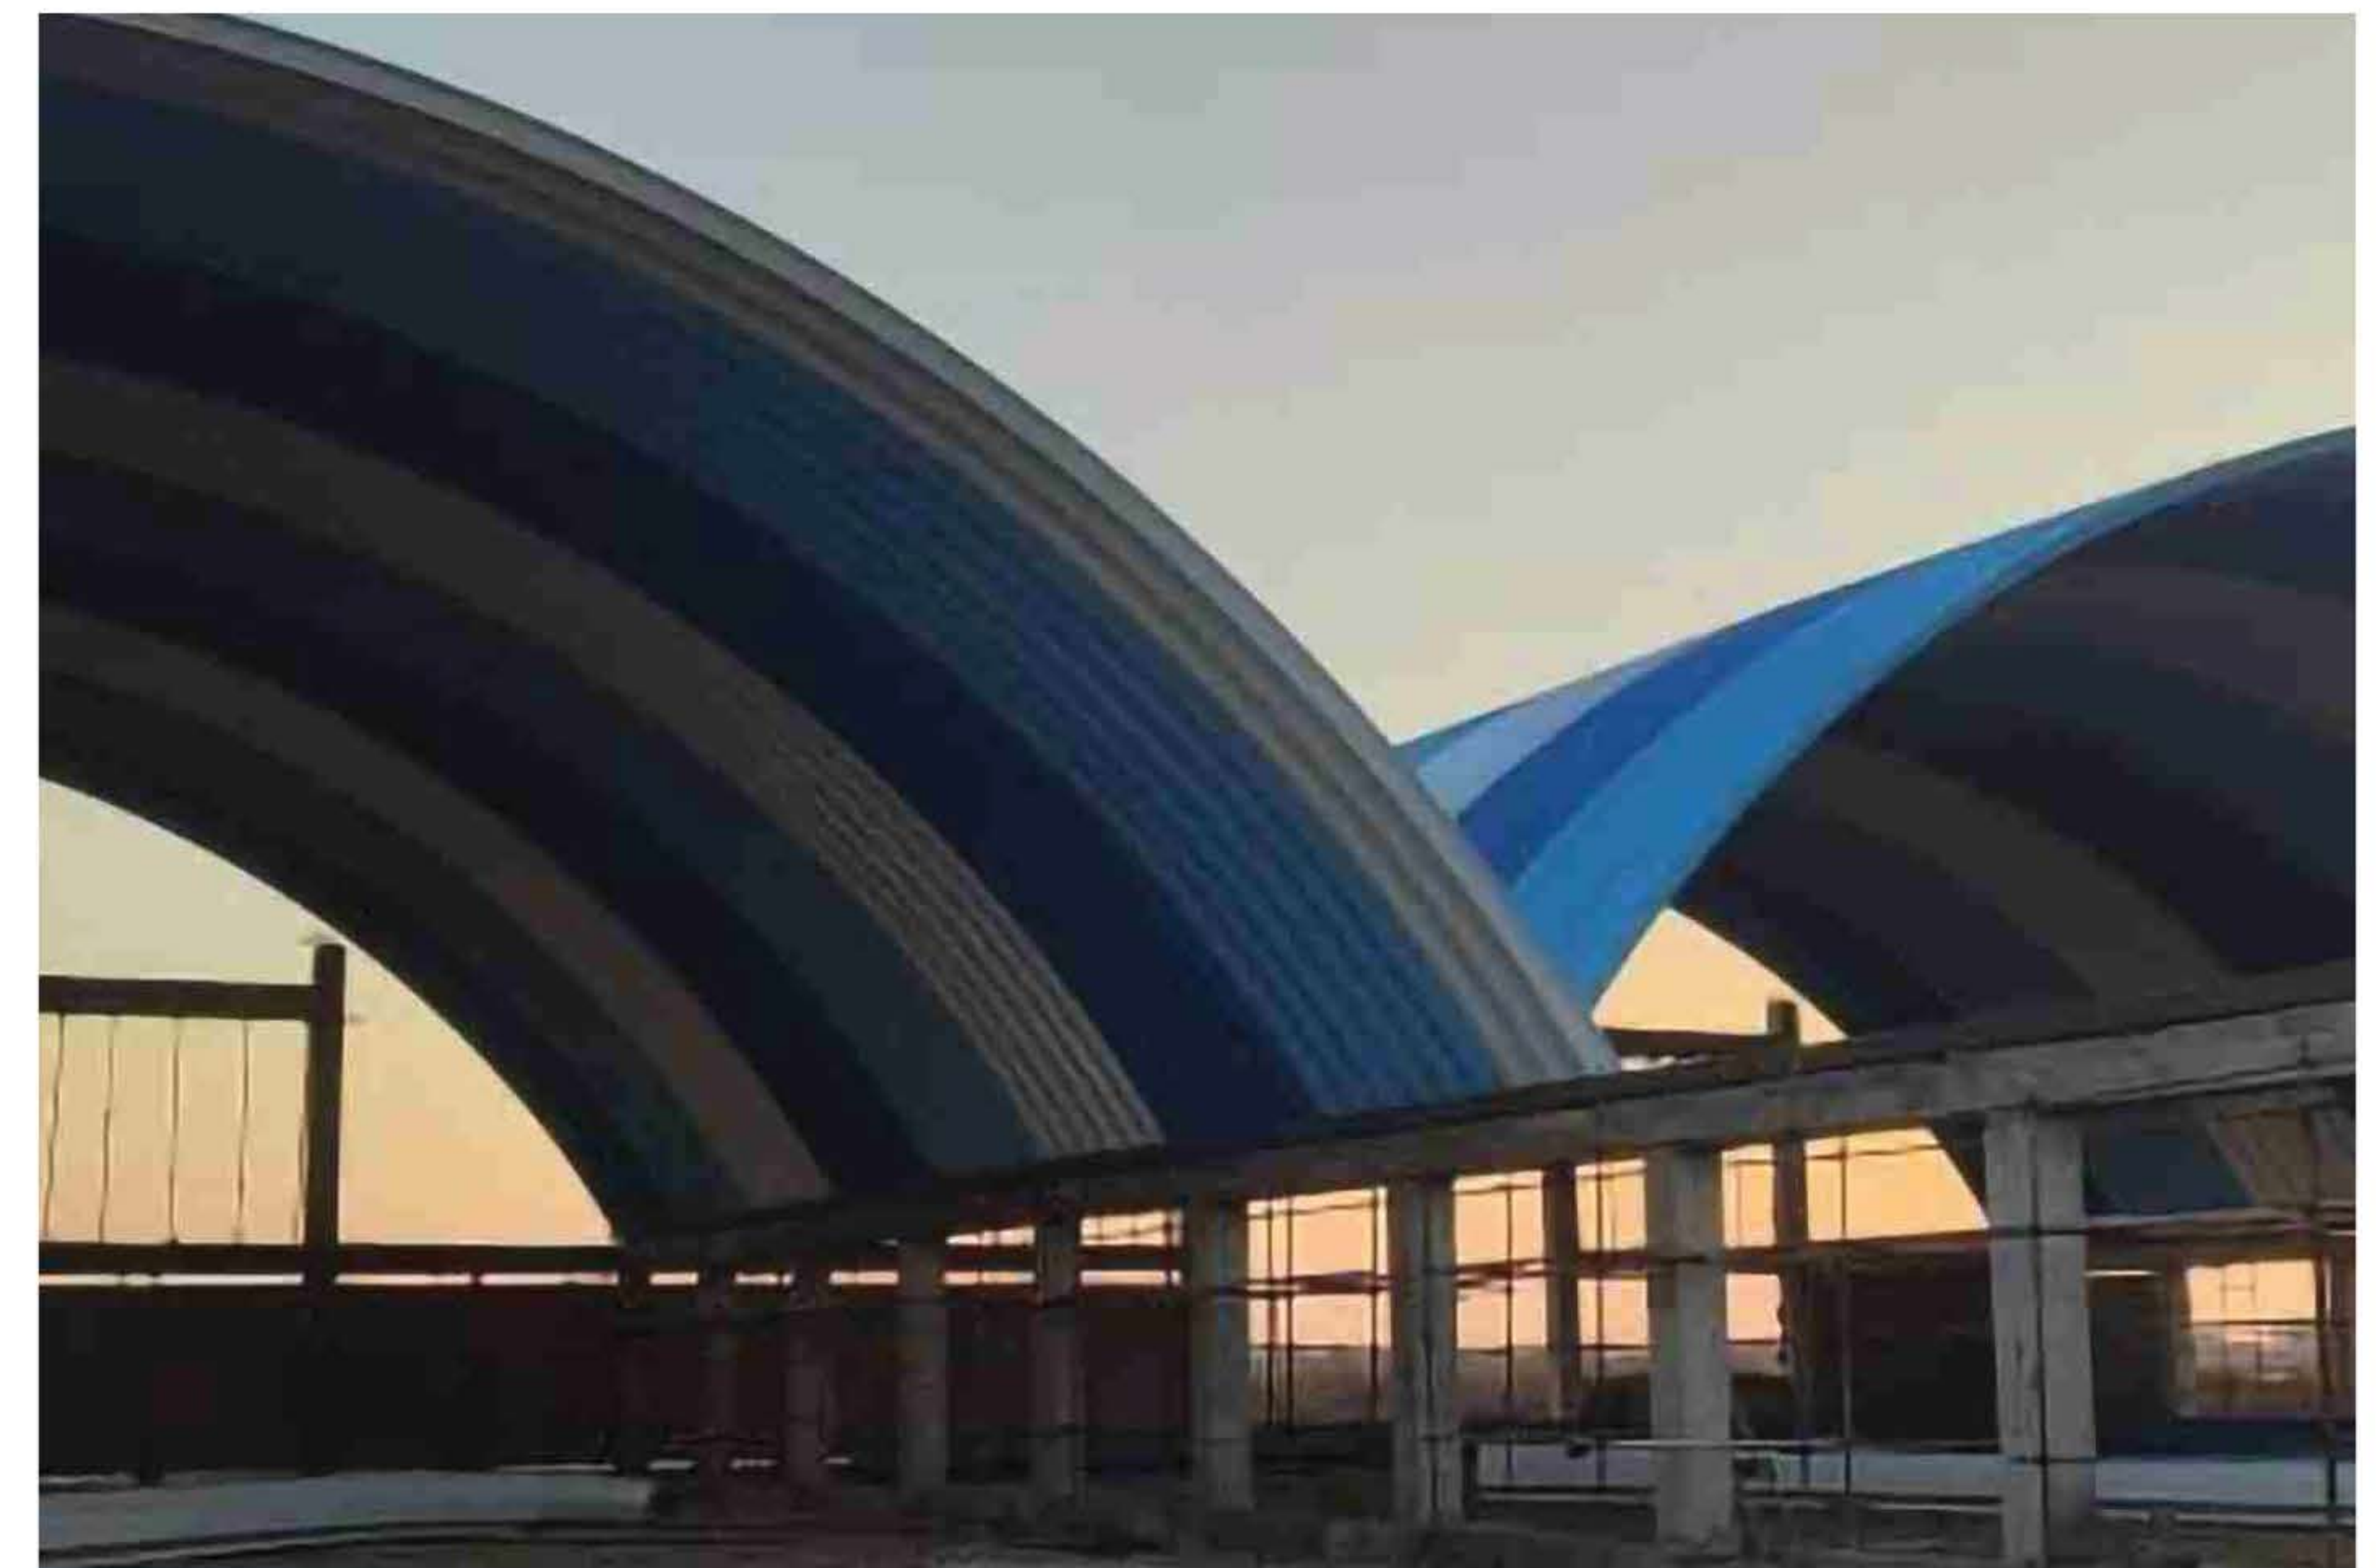

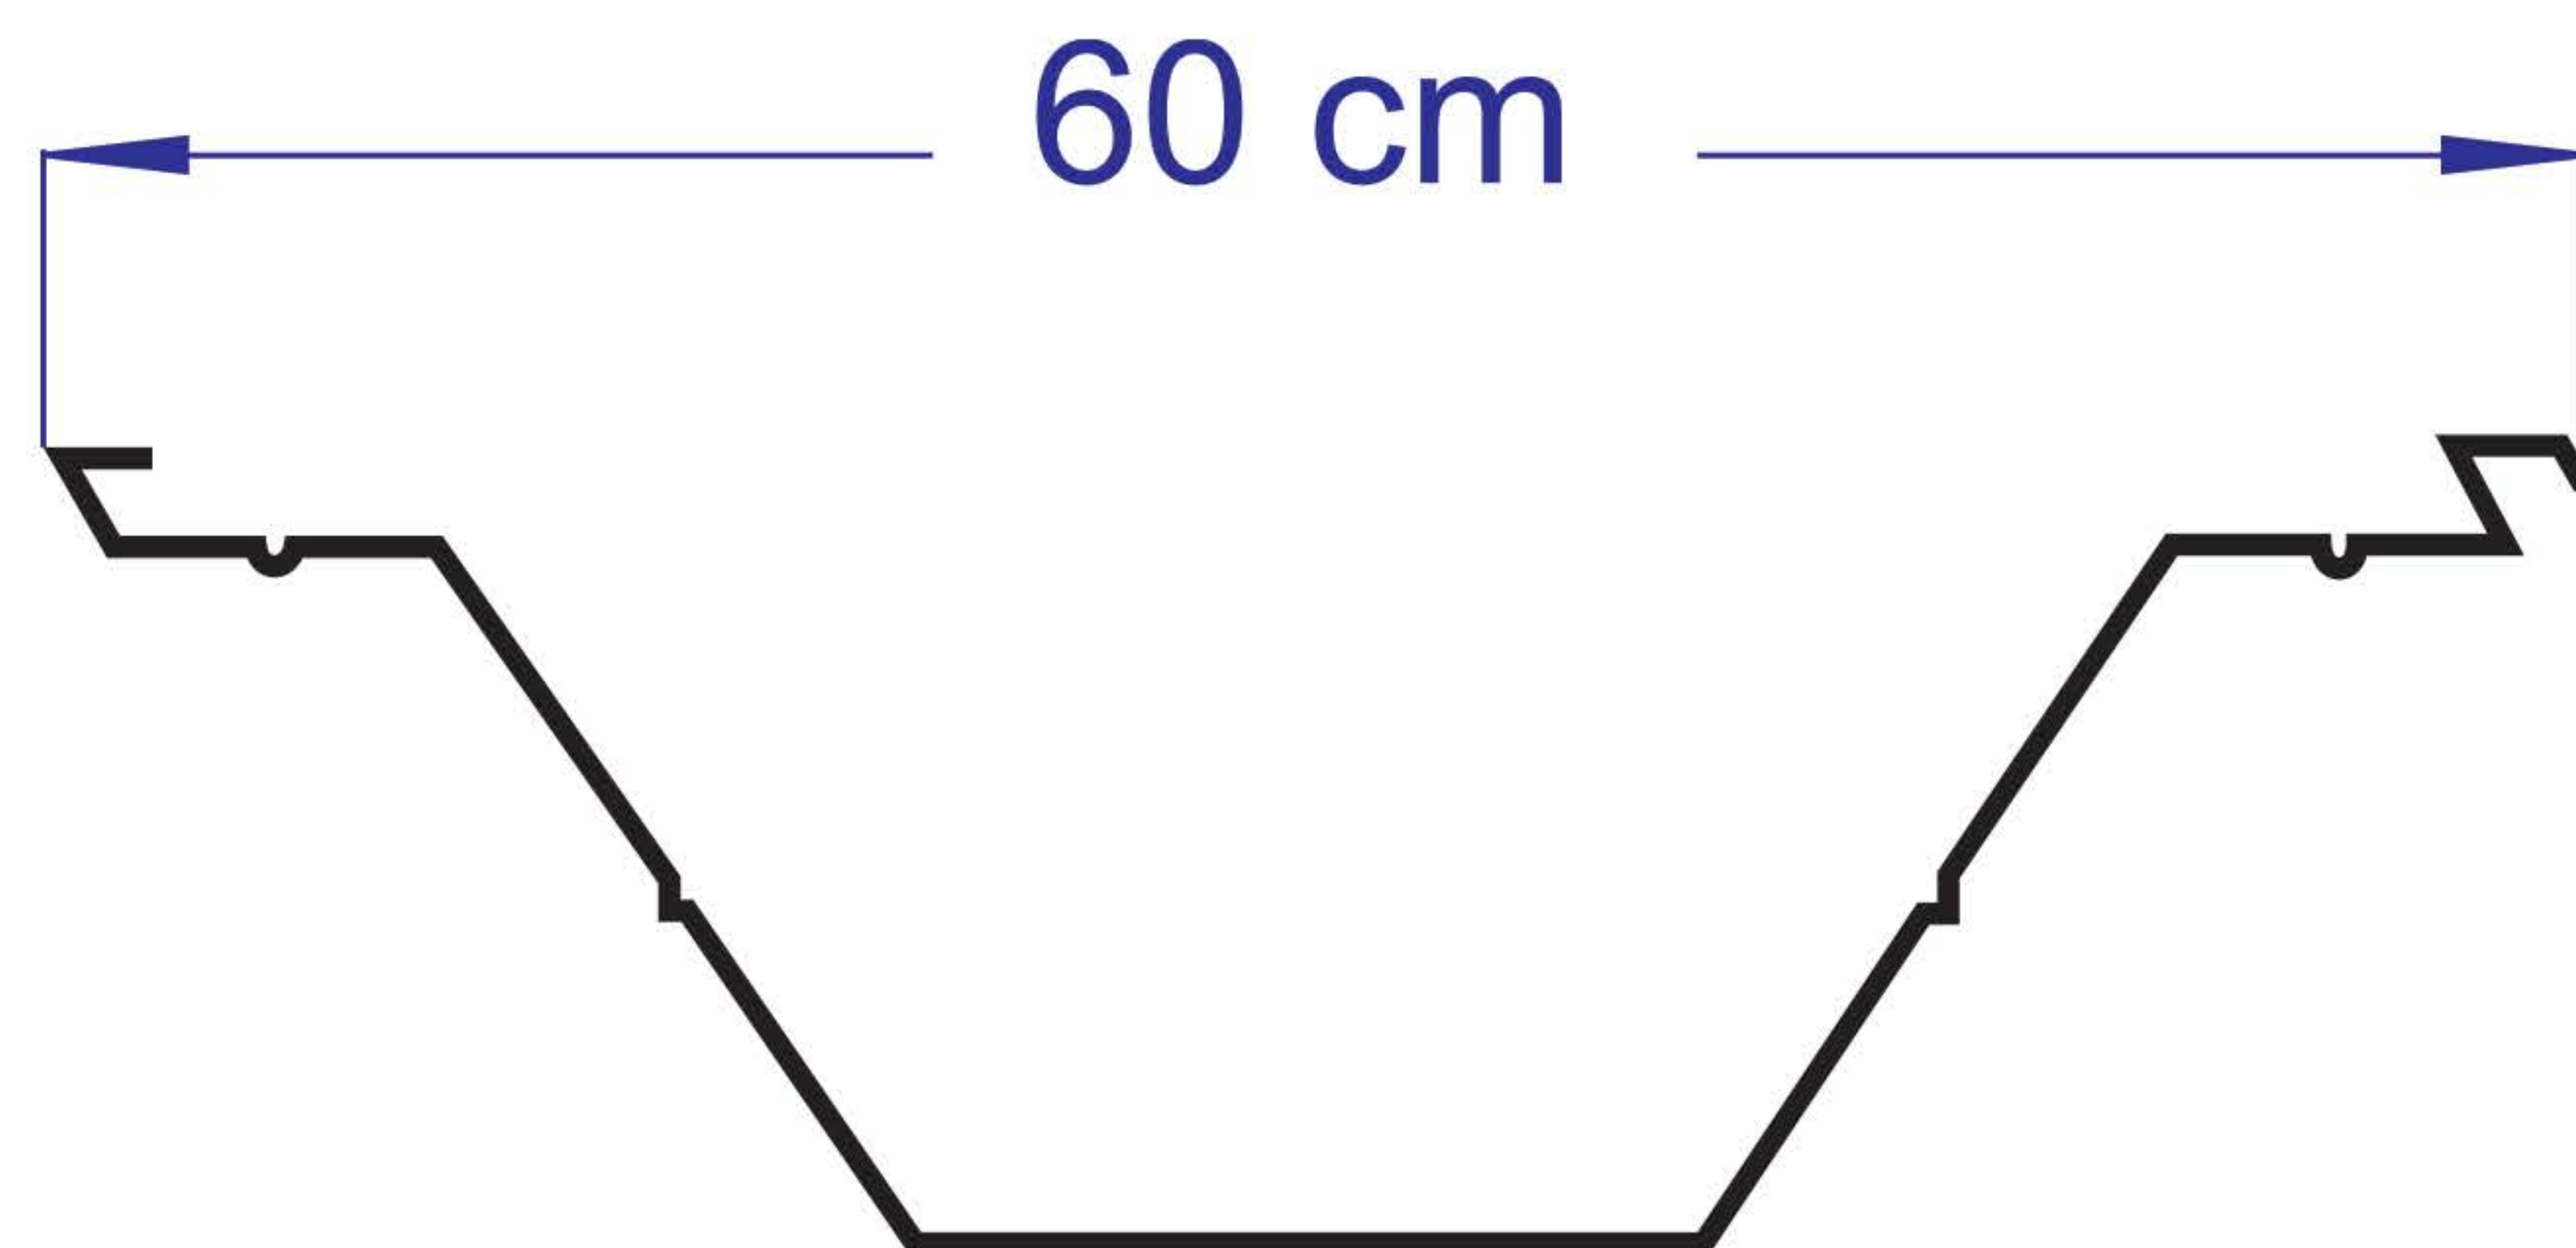

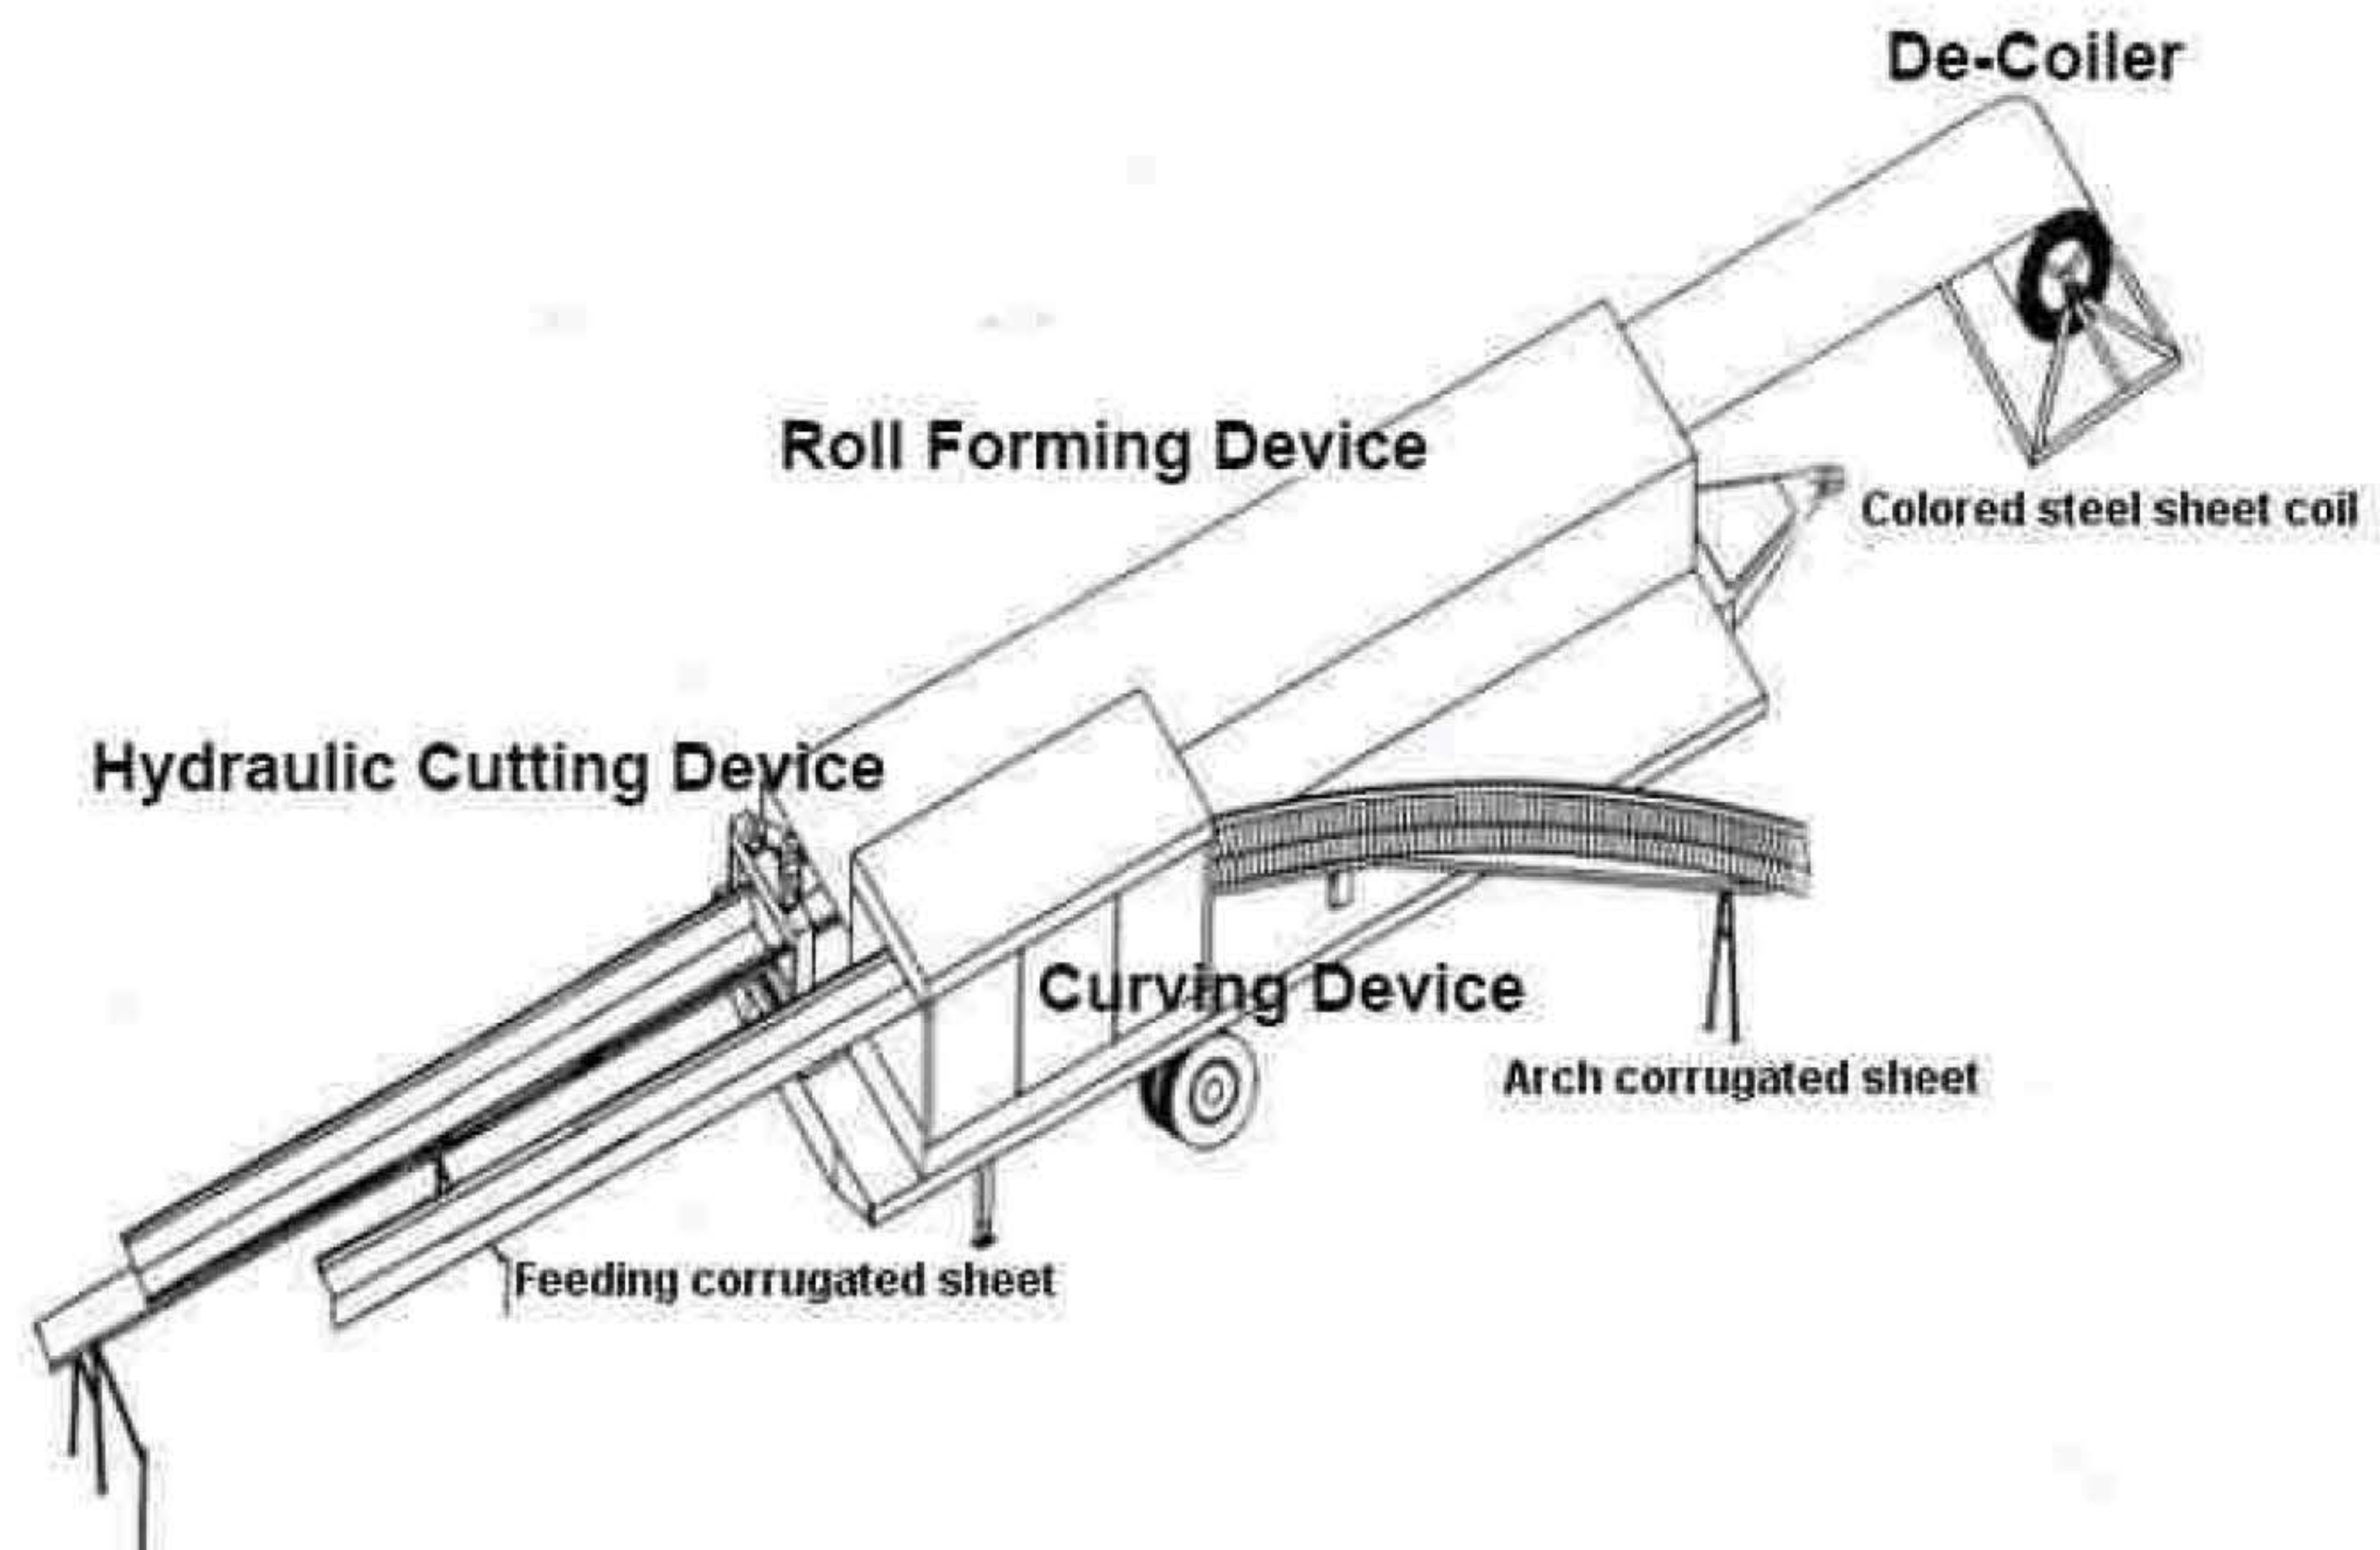

At every stage,
by your side

Flamingo Holding is the sole specialized provider of K-Span structures in Oman, offering complete design, production, and installation services tailored to the region's climatic conditions and the specific needs of each client.

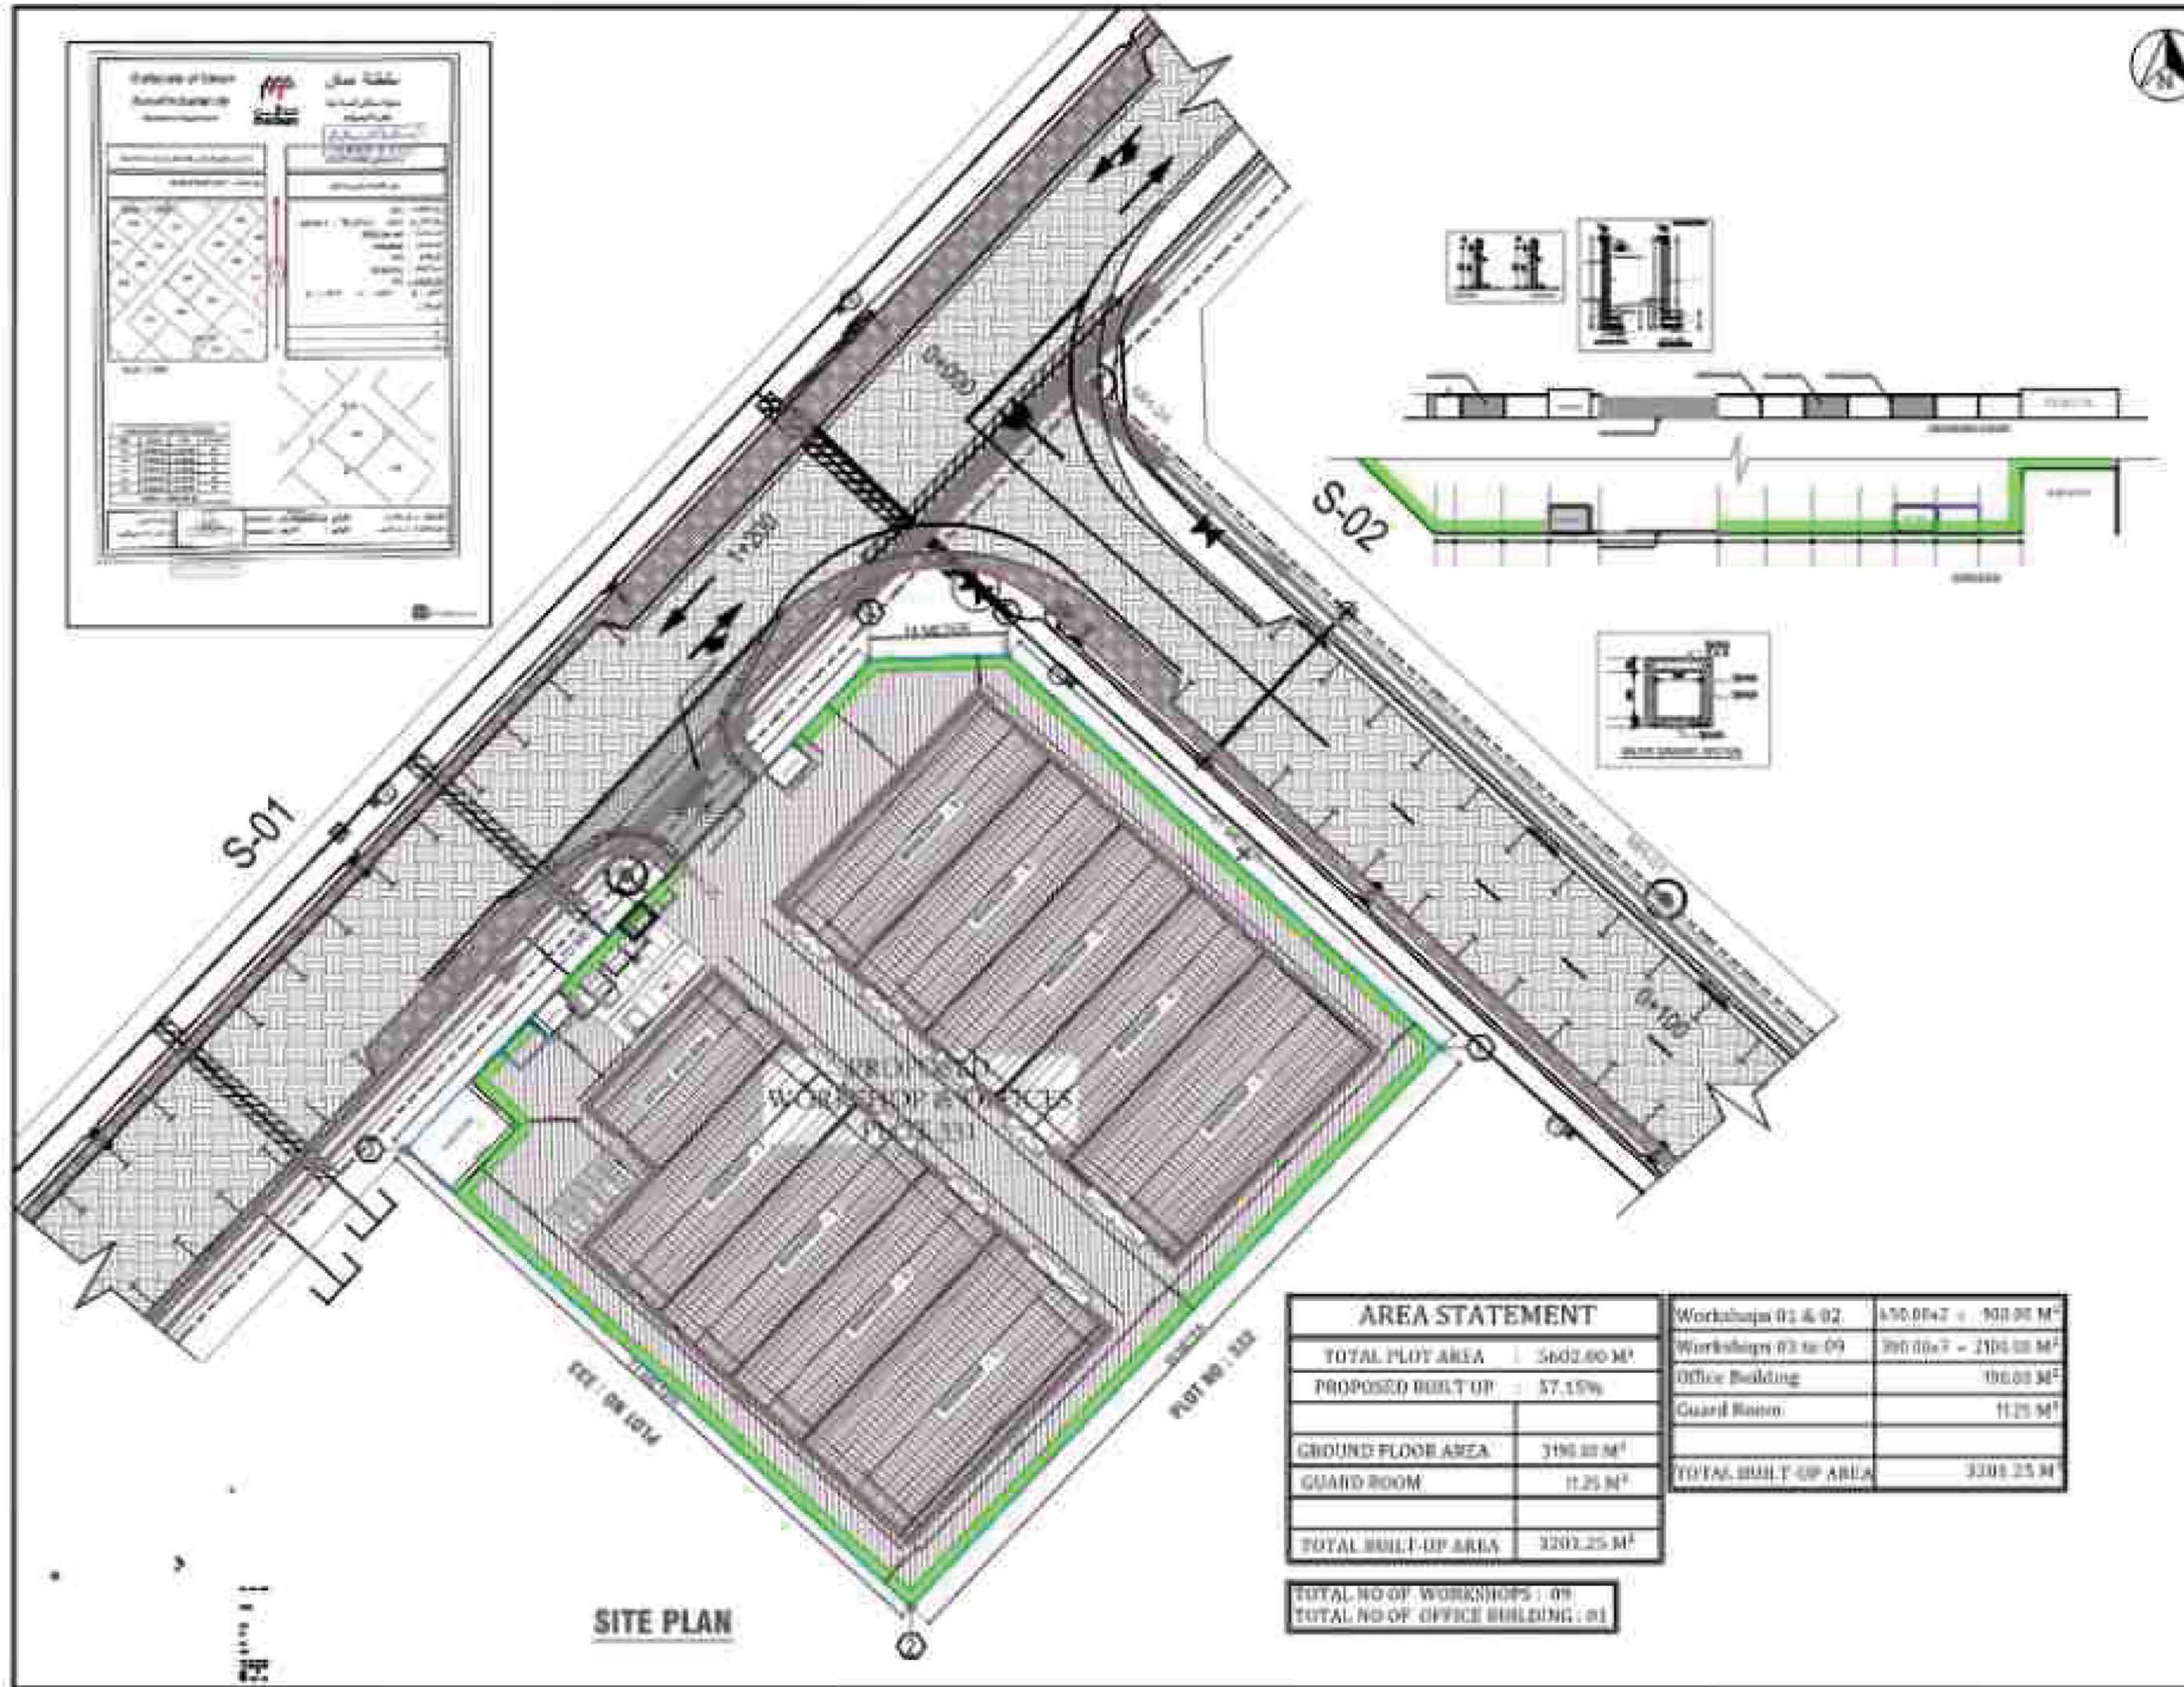

These arched, seamless structures can span up to 38 meters in width and 20 meters in height without internal columns, maximizing usable space. They offer exceptional resistance to earthquakes and strong winds and are fully sealed against air and water infiltration. The semi-circular design and unique shape naturally enhance internal ventilation and cooling.

K-Span structures can be installed rapidly and are highly cost-effective, making them an ideal solution for grain and fodder storage, industrial and assembly halls, aircraft hangars, product warehouses, sports facilities, and temporary or emergency structures.
